

Paired structural-accuracy difference by target and seed

Negative values favor VQE; the classical comparator is the lowest-RMSD classical method for the same target and seed.